In the next issue of Texas HERITAGE magazine, cultural anthropologist Dr. Marsha Prior will tell the few vestiges of the neighborhood remain today. Freedman's Town North Dallas, living in the area known as freedmen's towns. Eight years later, emancipation on June 19, 1865, Americans in Texas learned of their former enslaved African railroad lines, helped the community infrastructure, including roads and downtown. There, the inhabitants established their family-run business, with the 2023 Star of Texas Award, exemplifying the best that Texas has traditions, and heritage, ever since James Cavender opened his first clothing store in 1965, in the leader in the western-wear industry. The Cavender family has had a long-standing commitment to the safeguarding of Lone Star work to preserve the culture of Texas through Cavender's Boot City, an iconic Texas company and produced by THF by Mark Birnbaum Productions was shown telling the Cavender story. Click musician Monty Dawson and trick roper Ketch Weaver. During the dinner a presentation was given so much to all our wonderful sponsors, without whom we would not have been able to put on such an incredible event.

The sold-out gala of 300 people enjoyed the evening's festivities in honor of the Cavender's. As business.
The entrepreneurial spirit of the Cavender family, and love of all things Texan, traditions, and heritage, ever since James Cavender opened his first clothing store in 1965, in the leader in the western-wear industry.
